

The Eighth China Liaoning (Shenyang) International Agricultural Expo
China Northeast Asia (Shenyang) Import & Export Fair
September 23 ~ 26, 2013
Letter of Invitation

Shenyang Agricultural Expo has been held for seven sessions. In 2010 the fair moved to Shenyang International Exhibition Center, since then the exhibition scale has been growing at the rate of 50% a year, and gradually become an influential agricultural fair in North China.

The Eighth Shenyang Agricultural Fair is to be held from September 23 to 26, 2013, in Shenyang International Exhibition Center, Liaoning Province. There are six exhibition sections with a total area of 60,000 square meters. The theme of this fair is "green, innovation and development". The Fair will exhibit the achievements of modern agricultural development in Liao-Shen area, and further make itself an important platform for accelerating the leap-forward agricultural development and promoting agricultural technology exchanges in North China, so as to increase agricultural output and farmers' income, and give a strong support to rural economy for its sustainable development.

We sincerely invite you and your enterprises (Organizations) to visit Shenyang, China, and participate in this fair.

The Previous Expo Review

The Seventh China Liaoning (Shenyang) International Agricultural Expo was held from September 17 to 19, 2012, at Shenyang International Exhibition Center. There were 1,500 standard booths with an area of 45,000 square meters. 210 foreign companies from 14 countries and regions like the US, Republic of Korea, Vietnam, Germany, etc. and more than 1,200 Chinese companies from 19 Provinces of China, with their about 2,000 exhibits, took part in the Expo. Among the exhibits there were seeds, flowers, agricultural machinery, fertilizer, pesticide, modern agricultural equipment and some famous, new, choice agricultural products and local specialties. About 300,000 visitors came to this Expo, which became the biggest and highest ever in its scope and standard. During this Expo, the activities like connecting the agricultural production bases with supermarkets, the forum on agriculture, farmers and countryside, the message release on agricultural achievements, etc. were of high standard and practicability. So the timely and updated business information was provided to exhibitors and visitors.
